SPORT FOR ALL

History of a Vision Around the World

July 18-21, 2018

www.ishpes.org

The Institute of Sports Science, Department of Sport History and Physical Education at the University of Münster in Germany/Westphalia, will host the 19th ISHPES Congress. Münster is a city of great historical relevance. In 1648 the peace treaty of the Thirty Years' War was signed. Today among Münster's 350,000 inhabitants are about 50,000 students. The city is known as a bicycle capital, a green city with a high quality of life. The venue of the Congress will be the Franz-Hitze-Haus, next to the Aa Lake.

Scholars are invited to submit sessions including three abstracts related to the main topic "Sport for All – History of a Vision Around the World", or individual abstracts focused upon one of the following subtopics:

- "Sport for all" on various continents, in various regions and nations
- Sports, physical cultures, and physical education in time and space
- Aspects of integration, inclusion and segregation in sports and physical cultures (including disability and sports)
- Sports, movement cultures, and health around the world
- New approaches to Olympic history
- Historical approaches to mega-events in sport
- Gender diversity in various physical culture and sports
- Religious impacts on physical culture and sports globally
- Sports, industrialization, technology, and social diversity (including workers' sports)
- Open papers

Abstract Submission

- Abstract submission is exclusively online on www.ishpes.org until February 15, 2018.
- The official language of the congress is English.
- Presenters should be ISHPES members (if you are not a member yet, please fill out the membership form online).

The online form will invite you to inform the following points:

- Name of the author(s), your institutional affiliation and position, your office and mobile phone numbers and email addresses.
- The paper's title followed by a 350 words (maximum) abstract of the proposed paper.
- The abstract should include the question(s) addressed in the paper, the evidence to be used, a precise statement of the argument and conclusions, and what significance the paper has to our understanding of sports history.
- Please specify also to what sub-theme your abstract is related.
